

PSY100: Introduction to Psychology

Presents the theories and principles of modern psychology. You will learn about the different branches of psychology and the practical application of psychological tenets to functional behavior.

Credit Hours: 3