

BIO100: Principles of Biology

This course is designed to introduce biology at an entry-level by examining the hierarchy that ranges from the fundamentals of cell biology to the physiology of organisms, and the interactions among those organisms in their environment.

Credit Hours: 3