

SWDVME400: Software Development for Mobile Devices

This course covers generic principles in design and development for mobile devices which will include practical work doing design and development for one or more contemporary platforms.

Credit Hours: 3