

ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY

ATMP300 — Anatomy & Physiology I, 3.0 hours

PROFESSOR

Lisette M. Negron currently resides in Arlington, VA. She joined the military when she was 18, served 4 years active duty and 11 years, and counting as a reservist. Over the course of her career, she has served as a Human Resources professional. She has been responsible for the overall training and development of hundreds of civilian employees and soldiers, managers, and supervisors. These developmental trainings consist of day-to-day operations, programs processes, HR systems trainings, and successful completion of HR management certifications. HR departments oversee various aspects of employment, such as compliance with labor laws and employment standards, administration of employee benefits, and some aspects of recruitment. As a reservist, she is the Health Sciences HR Officer for a Medical Ground Ambulance company, where she manages all areas of operations, staffing, logistics, training, and work-life balance.

Ms. Negron completed her Doctorate degree in Business Administration with a concentration in HR Management and holds a graduate certificate in Health Care Administration.

She looks forward to being a part of this journey as your instructor.

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

Rizzo C. Donald. Fundamentals of Anatomy and Physiology. 4th Ed. Cengage, 2016.

EVALUATION METHOD

Graded work will receive a numeric score reflecting the quality of performance.

Course Requirement Summary

- Assignments - Total of 60 Points
- Weekly discussion forums-Total of 80 Points
- Final Exam - 50 Points

GRADING SCALE

Graded work will receive a numeric score reflecting the quality of performance as given above in evaluation methods. The maximum number of points a student may earn is 190. To determine the final grade, the student's earned points are divided by 190.

Your overall course grade will be determined according to the following scale:

A = (90% -100%)
B = (80% - 89%)
C = (70% - 79%)
D = (60% - 69%)
F < (Below 60%)

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY/ PLAGIARISM:

Cheating (dishonestly taking the knowledge of another person whether on a test or an assignment and presenting it as your work) and plagiarism (to take and pass off as one's own the ideas or writing of another) are a serious issue. While it is legitimate to talk to others about your assignments and incorporate suggestions, do not let others "write" your assignments in the name of peer review or "borrow" sections or whole assignments written by others. We do get ideas from life experiences and what we read but be careful that you interpret these ideas and make them your own.

I am aware that many types of assignments are available on the internet and will check these sources when there is legitimate suspicion.

Penalty is a zero on the assignment. In cases where there is a major or continuous breach of trust, further discipline, such as an "F" in the course, may be necessary.

The major consequence of any form of cheating is damage to your character and the result of trust and respect.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

Students who have a disability and wish to request an academic accommodation should contact Jim Gepperth, the Disabilities Services Coordinator and Academic Dean. The student can request an accommodation at any time although it is encouraged to do so early in the enrollment process. The student should complete an accommodation request form which begins a conversation between the school and the student regarding the nature of their disability and an accommodation that would help the student succeed in their program. The school may request documentation regarding the disability to address the accommodation request effectively. The school will communicate to the student the type of accommodation arranged. This process typically follows a team approach, bringing together persons from the academic department (including the instructor) and personnel from other departments as necessary. Additional information on disability accommodations may be found in the Lakewood University Catalog.

DESCRIPTION

Anatomy and Physiology I is the first of a two- course sequence. This course will provide the knowledge of the structure and function of the human body. The topics include but are not limited to cells, tissues and organs of the following systems: integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous and special senses.

Program Objectives

1. Explain the difference between the strategic initiatives and operating activities of a health care organization.
2. Explain the concepts of internal audits and external environmental assessments.
3. Distinguish between strategic direction at the level of the corporation and within its individual strategic business units
4. To be able to discuss the role of organizational structure in strategy implementation and the different forms of structure possible
5. Explain the importance of finance, marketing, human resources, and legal implications of strategic planning.
6. Understand and explain the elements of organizational design.
7. Understand the tools and make decisions on which tool should be applied and best suited to which strategic strategy.
8. Explain the different strategic planning options: internal expansion, strategic alliances, mergers, acquisitions, downsizing, divestiture, and bankruptcy
