

MEDTERM101: Medical Terminology

This course introduces an in-depth study of medical terms and abbreviations specially designed for healthcare administrators. By working through several different organ systems, students will learn the parts of medical terms, how they relate to healthcare, and how they are used in a medical environment.

Credit Hours: 3