

APPD300: Object-Oriented Application Development I

This course provides students with knowledge of object-oriented programming concepts and application programming interfaces. Topic included but not limited to multi-threading, data structure collections, stream I/O, and client interfaces.

Credit Hours: 3