

DINT400: Database Integrations

This course will help students understand issues arising in data integration, focusing on the theoretical foundations of the area, and algorithms and software systems facilitating integration.

Credit Hours: 3