

ENTRM400: Enterprise Resource Management

This course provides an overview of Enterprise Resource Planning, which will cover planning, manufacturing, sales, finance, and accounting. Students will be provided a basic understanding of the methodology and practice of ERP using industry-leading software packages to explore the interaction among the different business processes.

Credit Hours: 3