CILW400 — Comparative Internal Law, 3.0 hours

PROFESSOR

Michael J. Bennett is an American historian and lawyer with teaching experience in the Early Republic, Civil War Era, and the law. He taught U.S. Constitutional History and American Legal History at Penn State University and Wake Forest. Dr. Bennett's most recent book, Union Jacks: Yankee Sailors in the Civil War (2004), published by the University of North Carolina Press, eschews traditional explanations for why northerners went to war in 1861. The North American Society for Oceanic History awarded the book the John Lyman Book Award as the Best Book in United States Naval History for 2004. In May 2008, Wake Forest presented Dr. Bennett with its Distinguished Faculty Award in recognition of his contributions, dedication, and passion for teaching.

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

Schaffer, Richard. Agusti, Filiberto. Dhooge J. Lucien. International Business Law and Its Environment. 10th ed. Cengage, 2018.

EVALUATION METHOD

Graded work will receive a numeric score reflecting the quality of performance.
Course Requirement Summary

- Assignments - Total of 60 Points
- Weekly discussion forums-Total of 80 Points
- Final Exam - 50 Points

GRADING SCALE

Graded work will receive a numeric score reflecting the quality of performance as given above in evaluation methods. The maximum number of points a student may earn is 190. To determine the final grade, the student's earned points are divided by 190.

Your overall course grade will be determined according to the following scale:

A = (90% -100%)

B = (80% - 89%)

C = (70% - 79%)

F < (Below 70%)

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY/ PLAGIARISM:

Cheating (dishonestly taking the knowledge of another person whether on a test or an assignment and presenting it as your work) and plagiarism (to take and pass off as one's own the ideas or writing of another) are a serious issue. While it is legitimate to talk to others about your assignments and incorporate suggestions, do not let others "write" your assignments in the name of peer review or "borrow" sections or whole assignments written by others. We do get ideas from life experiences and what we read but be careful that you interpret these ideas and make them your own.

I am aware that many types of assignments are available on the internet and will check these sources when there is legitimate suspicion.

Penalty is a zero on the assignment. In cases where there is a major or continuous breach of trust, further discipline, such as an "F" in the course, may be necessary.

The major consequence of any form of cheating is damage to your character and the result of trust and respect.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

Students who have a disability and wish to request an academic accommodation should contact Jim Gepperth, the Disabilities Services Coordinator and Academic Dean. The student can request an accommodation at any time although it is encouraged to do so early in the enrollment process. The student should complete an accommodation request form which begins a conversation between the school and the student regarding the nature of their disability and an accommodation that would help the student succeed in their program. The school may request documentation regarding the disability to address the accommodation request effectively. The school will communicate to the student the type of accommodation arranged. This process typically follows a team approach, bringing together persons from the academic department (including the instructor) and personnel from other departments as necessary. Additional information on disability accommodations may be found in the Lakewood University Catalog.

DESCRIPTION

In this course, students will learn the relations between nations and states also known as law of nations, and the syllabus is split into public international law, private international law and supranational law.

Program Objectives

1. Learn that nations sometimes adhere to similar, and at other times, adopt different interpretations of the same international norms and standards.

2. Understand that international legal rules are not a monolithic whole, but are the basis for ongoing contestation in which states set forth competing interpretations.
3. Understand that international norms are interpreted and redefined by national executives, legislatures, and judiciaries.
4. Learn cross-country similarities and differences in international legal norms in different fields of international law, as well as their application and interpretation with regards to geographic differences.
5. Learn different international legal systems.
6. Understand the underlying methodology of comparative international law: looking at the diverse norms, rules, and institutions from diverse perspectives.
7. Students gain a greater awareness of the diversity of international law and its institutions.
8. Acquire an understanding of non-Western legal traditions such as Chinese and Islamic.
